

Announcement
NATO ADVANCED STUDY INSTITUTE

Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada
August 10–21, 1992

RELATIVISTIC AND ELECTRON CORRELATION EFFECTS IN MOLECULES AND SOLIDS

Director: G. L. Malli, Simon Fraser University

Organizing Committee: E. R. Davidson (USA), G. L. Malli (Canada), S. Peyerimhoff (Germany), A. Veillard (France).

Lecturers: E. R. Davidson (USA), M. Dupuis (USA), K. G. Dyall (USA), W. C. Ermler (USA), I. P. Grant (UK), N. C. Handy (UK), H. A. Jensen (Denmark), G. L. Malli (Canada), R. P. Messmer (USA), W. C. Nieuwpoort (Netherlands), J. Paldus (Canada), S. Peyerimhoff (Germany), D. R. Salahub, (Canada), R. Shepard (USA), A. Veillard (France).

Language: The official language of the Institute will be ENGLISH.

Participants: The Institute is intended to be at the postdoctoral level, and is open to post-doctoral fellows, University faculty members, government or industrial researchers, etc. Attendance will be limited to about 80.

Room and board: Lodging will be at the Gage Residence (Dormitory) Complex of the University of British Columbia. Room and board cost is about Can. $65 per night.

Financial support: Limited support for travel and/or room and board will be available on a competitive basis to defray part of the expenses of participants from NATO countries.

Application: Those wishing to attend should send a letter to the following by March 15, 1992.

Prof. G. L. Malli, Director,
NATO ASI. 910849
Department of Chemistry,
Simon Fraser University,
Burnaby, British Columbia,
CANADA V5A 1S6.

Telephone: 1-(604)-291-3530
Telex: 043-54614
FAX: 1-(604)-291-3765
E-mail: malli@sfu.ca
USERMALI@SFU.BITNET
(until Dec. 31/91)
malli@sfuvax.bitnet
(after Dec. 31/91)